

Participant Name Sam Poole

Participant ID HF945518

Overall Score

Fit Recommendation

People Skills

Low scorers tend to be blunt and direct.

Average scorers tend to be socially appropriate.

High scorers tend to be pleasant and engaging.

Learning Skills

Low scorers tend not to be interested in learning new skills.

Average scorers tend to have focused interests.

High scorers tend to be eager to learn.

Work Ethic

Low scorers tend to be easily distracted.

Average scorers tend to be average workers.

High scorers tend to be dependable and hardworking.

Interviewing for Context

- Describe your role on a group project. How did you handle conflict within that group?
- If your manager didn't have time to provide training for a new job, how would you work around that?
- When you are worried you won't meet your manager's expectations, how would you deal with that situation?